Ajam lives in the steppe . he loves the rolling hills
The warm dry winds . but his wifes love touches His heart the most . her grace surpasses even The brightness of the stars . her gentle voice soothes his mind . pure love
Then came the sad day . riders raped his wife
He lost his face . the elders decided That she must go . through tearful eyes
He watched her leave . should I renounce my pride And follow her into death . he decides and never smiles again
Adam lives in a big town . he loves his job His car and his life - style . but most of all he loves his wife
Her endless energy . her beauty her wit and her charm
Then came the sad day . her test was positive He watched her lose her strength . he decides to cancel his job
For the rest of her life . he'll stay by her side
When the end came . he held her hand
And he told her that he . always loved her and always will
I love you too
