Whenever I can, I don't dare
Whenever I must, I'm aware
Every love lost that gives me pain
Whatever I see is the same

Where is the tunnel? Where is the light?
Where is the love that they described?
I feel so empty, where is the path?
My soul is burning in the dark

I see no sense in going on
It doesn't matter which side won
The pain grows stronger with every word I say
So go away now and let me stay

Where is the tunnel? Where is the light?
Where is the love that they described?
I feel so empty, where is the path?
My soul is burning in the dark

You are the center, you are the love
You are the meaning, coming from above
You are the tunnel and you are the light
But no one told you, you have the might

You are the answer glowing in time
You've been the first thought when will you shine
The love surrounds you even if you burn
Your heart will tell you it's time to turn
