Indecision will get you nowhere
But not so long ago
I made my mark not knowing where
Where to go, but it didn't show
Where I stand it's not too far away from here
This path is mine and only mine
Let me take a minute to set things clear

Not so long ago... I would not let it show
'Cause I couldn't remember words I thought were mine

I woke up - I was dreaming of this feeling I've dreamt

About
I woke up - I was dreaming of this feeling I could do Without
So what's the use in trying when I can't find the time?
But I'm still awake and these words are mine

But not so long ago... I would not let it show
'Cause I couldn't remember words I thought were mine

Mine all mine...
