Far away beyond darkness and evil
A place of harmony and calmness
A lost paradise of all creatures
The land of the frozen souls
Everybody is searching for the tunnel
The passage that brings them to life
A calm life filled with harmony
Where war and pain don't exist
The place that no one can leave
Before or after they have died
To be there they must believe
And in hope that no one has lied
Only the sun is their holy god
And the land is their own flesh
Even the sea treated like blood
And the air is always fresh
For us life is just misery
To exists seems to be unnecessary
The past through the maze of life
Will soon be wide open and clear
Come to the place of harmony
Reach for the ultimate edge
A cross the holy border
Find the passage of life
Come to the place of harmony
Reach for the ultimate edge
A cross the holy border
Find the passage of life

Massacre, pain, starvation
Execution, suffering, war
Violence, face the reality
Of this world...

Massacre, pain, starvation
Execution, suffering, war
Violence, face the reality
Of this world...

The place that no one can leave
Before or after they have died

To be there they must believe
And in hope that no one has lied
