Latching onto the crowd
They never ever did it that way
Follow the light shunned by the herd
Guided by a brainwave
So many proud do it that way
All the postures being played
After the fact a bit too late
Coppin' on the new rave

They want to fit in so fucking bad
On all fours kissing so much ass

But the true will stick it through

Not fit in So be it
You can call some insane way
With a message to prey
But some use choice and do it their Unity power within their range
Wounded in a fight
Too many on a straight wave

Better off dead and save your face
On a sick path, a clueless trace
Not fit in So be it
