That's it, I can't take it any more
Senseless destruction iof innocent lives
They have no face, they have no name
Their cries go unheard in the night

Try to silence their screams
But there will always be those who fight
And are willing to give it all
To secure the future of animal rights

What right do your have
To act as judge over life and death
Your crimes must be put to a halt
We will strike... and retaliate
No place to hide
So keep running all your life

Try to silence their screams
But there will always be those who fight
And are willing to give it all
To secure the future of animal rights

Try to silence their screams
But there will always be those who fight
And are willing to give it all
To secure the future of animal rights
