Hours after, after hours
Our afternoon hours are after us now
We're all arms and dangerous
We're all almost famous for it

And I've got names for it
And they're all the same, I'd bet
Hours before you go, I still will not know
If people or time will ever move slow

We'll be palms in paradise
When the pearly gates see our pearly whites
So all palms in for paradise
The second coming of our birth rights

Do you know what you've got going good for you?
I was born in 1968 to replace Bobby Kennedy
And I don't know how it all might go
Do you know what you've got going, good for you?
No one could be happier for you
