Boxing shadows in my sleep
It's the company I keep
The perfect exercise
As I grow older

I can't believe what God has done
He took the heat out of the sun
And now it seems the world
Is growing colder

Chorus:
Between the pleasure and the pain
Wishing your life away
No more sinister than sane
Briefing your life away
Between the flicker and the flame
No one can explain
Baby blue is born again

I'm looking for some place to go
Sucking out screams in stereo
Before my barred eyes
I saw her drowning

Keep my daughter in a jar
She can't get out she won't go far
My heart is in my mouth
But still keep pounding

Chorus x 2
