I can see you on the outside
Looking in at my little world
It's so small and so fragile
Staring in at my little world
If you can see me where I don't belong
Come a little closer
I won't do you any harm
I'm as helpless as a boy can be
I'm looking out at you and here's what I see

Your eyes are so big and so glossy to me
Your lips are so big and so juicy
Your fingers so eager to reach me
You're so tempting, you're so tempted

Don't shake my world
Don't turn it upside down
It makes the snow fall all around me
It only shows how useless we are

I keep thinking of a way out
I keep wishing someone'd take me away
I'm underwater in a snowball
I'm underwater and I've been here for days
You like to come around with all your friends
You bring them over just to shake me again
I was as helpless as a boy can be
I'm looking out at you and here's what I see

And your eyes are so big and so glossy to me
And your lips are so big and so juicy
And your fingers so eager to reach me
You're so tempting, you're so tempted

Don't shake my world
Don't turn it upside down
It makes the snow fall all around me
It only shows how useless we are

And your eyes are so big and so glossy to me
And your lips are so big and so juicy

And your fingers so eager to reach me
You're so tempting, you're so

Don't shake my world
Don't turn it upside down
It makes the snow fall all around me
It only shows how useless we are

Don't shake my world
Don't turn it upside down
It makes the snow fall all around me
It only shows how useless we are

Don't shake my world
