I swear I did my best to ensure that
His final moments were swift and free from fear
But consideration should be made for the fact
That Sandor Katz was my first kill
So I trust the meter wheel

Understand that while the screams may wear the seam
The conscious objections they were a reality
Simply a regress to honour his strength and speed With gratitude and tenderness I seared every single hair from his body
Gently placed his decapitated head in a stock pot
Boiled off his flesh and made a spreadable head cheese

Because I believe that one can only relate with Another living creature by completely destroying it

I'm sure Sandors' friends and family would appreciate this
A rationale so moronic it defies belief
Post-vegetarian I must submit to you respectfully Be careful what kind of world you wish for Someday it may come knocking on your door

Let me in! Let me the fuck in!
I just wanna
Fully relate

I swear I'll do my best to ensure that
Your final moments are swift and free from fear
