I'm through playing games with you,
I'm putting all blame back on you.
Why'd you even ask me when you don't really give a dam,
is it cause your keeping score inside your head.

You haven't changed at all,
your still doing the things you do
and it's all my fault because I let you.

I let you do the things you do.

So if your ears they start to ring,
Don't wonder who's been saying nasty things.

You haven't changed at all,
your still doing the things you do
and it's all my fault because I let you.

I let you do the things you do.
