You are my shelter
A place of warm against the storm
And even when the world is falling
You set me higher than the clouds
Great shepherd the world surrounds me
I have wonder from your pain
I am the brightest when I am near you
So here I am coming back again
You sowed me greater things
And you bring me above the clouds of disappear
But I can see new hope
And all the pain is love
And entertain the thoughts
Of being called your son
I know I can't hide from you
You see right through my disguise
You created me , you are the water washing me
Oh Lord my shepherd
You are the one who knows his sheep
No one took your life away from you
But you gave it
You sowed me greater things
And you bring me above the clouds of disappear
But I can see new hope
And all the pain is love
And entertain the thoughts
Of being called your son
