I didn't have time to fix my hair today, but that's okay
Because it's me who's broken anyway
You tried to mend me, sitting there
With yours glue and sticky tape
But I can't hear a word you say...
All your mutters such a waste...

CHORUS

I tried to tell you
I'm sorry I fell
Dragged you straight down to Hell
I tried to warn you
But you could never tell
And I've done all that I shall
But it's too late now
I already fell down to you...

Tried to push your pressure onto me
But it didn't get you anywhere
Thinking I was blind
I couldn't see the die in your hands...
The counter on the board
I was oblivious to your game...

CHORUS

I tried to tell you
I'm sorry I fell
Dragged you straight down to Hell
I tried to warn you
But you could never tell
And I've done all that I shall
But it's too late now
I already fell down to you...
Down to you...
Oh, I already fell, I already fell
Straight down to Hell...
Oh, I already fell... Straight down to Hell.
