Maybe cause we gotta deal with all of this pressure
Tryina do as expected, no longer an adolescent Coughing it when you stepping, hard to be calm and collective
When you constantly stressing, over dollars and debting
Your mind is congested, you better hop on a train
Leave the block for a day or two Maine, stop playing games, ain't no one in waiting you
Be a man, life ain't no cartoon, peter pan
Feed your fam, minor to major leaguers, we advanced Ah, still sagging my jeans like I'm back in my team Feeling like a maniac, at least that's what it seems I'm an addict and fiend, with a habit to dream
Like I can have anything, no elaborious scheme
Just a palace for the king, I'm going too far again
Same apartment, same kaky, same card again Fuck, it feel like I got a knot in my brain and nobody to blame
Can't let it drive me insane, hear that, hear that

[Hook]

Hey, it's gotta be another way outta here
Can you help me find my way out
I'm feeling like I'm living to die,
Tryina survive, I'll say again
It's gotta be another way outta here
Can you help me find my way out
I'm feeling like I'm living to die,
Tryina survive,

Making cause he gotta deal with artist deception Niggas who call you brethren but wouldn't visit your death bed
Women all need affection, royalty of a question
Never know they objective is better to just neglect it
And finish your breakfast
But the temperature is rising
Tryina prevent beeing violent

Prolly better off, in an asylum,
Got a list full of problems,
And a brain full of distractions
When you listen you just get static
Couldn't picture this happening, huh
Now it's real, can't explain, how it feels Pray to God, on your knees,
Now I need you, gotta kneel, even g's what you mean My head full of scene, I'm indeed in need of some space
Can I breathe, yo, please do the same, I've been trained
Put everything in perspective, how you plan to make a comeback
When you never made an exit,
I suggest that you take it one day at a time There's no escaping, unless you walk away from your mind
And that's why
