Simon, why is your light still on?
Oh Milo I can't sleep. Tell me again about true love.
Well one day, when you least expect it, the right girl will come into your life, and everything will be ok. And we will buy that ranch that we always talk about...

Have you ever tried to make a brand new start?
It's introduction to a broken heart

Forever and a day
Is all I ever wanted, baby
To figure out a way
To finish what I started Especially the thing that happened when I started with you
You taught me to fly and you taught me to fall
But after all
You'll be teaching me the hardest lesson of all

Introduction to loving and leaving
Begging and pleading
Anything to get you to stay
Just when you found forever
Start to feel better
'Cause everything is going your way
All at once your world falls apart
You learn the art
Introduction to a broken heart

I've been through it before
There's never any consolation

Now and then
Someone you adore
Turns happiness to desperation
Blink and when you open your eyes
It's all fallen apart

You told me to climb and to never look down
But somehow
You never told me 'bout the part where I crash to the ground

Introduction to loving and leaving
Begging and pleading
Anything to get you to stay
Just when you found forever
Start to feel better
'Cause everything is going your way
All at once your world falls apart
You learn the art
Introduction to a broken heart

Take my picture off of your wall
Drop my jacket off in the hall
Don't try to call me I will not answer
Best plans of women and men
Casually crumble and fall

ha ha ha ha

And all at once your world falls apart
You learn the art
Introduction to a broken heart
