Trying so hard and failing so fast - hoping this weight
Will not
Last - it's you who
Has it easy - just wait until your turn - now it's adding
Up and
Finally you'll face
The mess you made and never cleaned - and all the things
You've
Never seen - it seems
So better now - now that the problem has found it's blame
And
Now you've found it,

It was easier for you but now it's not the same - failing
No
More for things I was Sure were not my problems - but I've taken punches for What you
Say - it's finally
Not my time to take the weight of blame - raise your hand
When Called upon, when the Problems face to face - I'm trying so hard just to Forgive
