When will we learn
That hate can't heal these wounds?
How many die
Before we see?
Now darkness calls
And I must answer to
The soothing words of the serpents will

In my eyes, I've watched it all
And this shield will come to dust
In my time, these walls will fall
They'll be gone before the dawn

The falling rain surrounds me
Dampens my will to live
I am a man of fortune
Swimming in an endless sea

In my eyes, I've watched it all
And this shield will come to dust
In my time, these walls will fall
They'll be gone before the dawn

In my eyes, I've watched it all
And this shield will come to dust
In my time, these walls will fall
They'll be gone before the dawn
In my eyes, I've watched it all (watched it all)
And this shield will come to dust
In my time, these walls will fall (walls will fall)
They'll be gone before the dawn
