Have a look at me
And tell me what you see
Do you look at me?
Then tell me what you see
A mask? no, a hollow
Without a heart!

Crawling, searching for a better place
Screaming, silent hoping on your love
Bleeding, I'm lost in endless dreams
Lonesome painful when everything dies

Tears will come to my face
Will not hold them back anymore
Another bad replication
Never ending
Never ending

Tell me what you see
What it means to me
What it seems to be
What it means to flee
When everything dies

Crawling, searching for a better place
Screaming, silent hoping on your love
Bleeding, I'm lost in endless dreams
Lonesome painful when everything dies

Tears will come to my face
Will not hold them back anymore
Another bad replication
Never ending
Never ending
