A situation gone bad
Best opportunity I ever had
To turn the wrong into right
Try to avoid another awful fight

It happens every time
I scratch my head to find
There's nothing really there
Nothing but a rock and some hair

Some people aren't very nice
They'll let you down and give you bad advice
So you better beware
Choose your friends with special care

It happens every time
I scratch my head to find
There's nothing really there
Nothing but a rock and some hair

But when you lose your way
There's something more to say
I'm holding on tonite
Holding on to what is right

It happens every time
I scratch my head to find
There's nothing really there
Nothing but a rock and some hair

So when we lose our way
Remember what I say
And something to forget
And don't make me hopeless yet.

All right
Yeah Yeah
