The sky is crumbling, falling above me
The earth is rumbling, quaking under me

The sea is churning, flowing over me
The stars are burning, blazing down on me

And it seems like end of days
And it feels like end of days to me
Yes it seems like end of days
And it feels like end of days to me

Here now, judgement day
The crowd is trembling as they pray
I must find a way
Perhaps with magic, so I'll play...

Now through the haze
I see a light
Shining bright as day
And it feels like
Life again to me

The stars are shining, shining down on me!
My song resounding calmed the earth and sea
And the bell tolls once again
And my dreams call once again

Now watch him rise
Into the night!
