Drive through the city at night
Trying to stay distracted
Past / the / dead / eyes
Past / the / cold / hands
I see the blood on the street,
I see the smoke in the air,
But further down the street,
I see a different picture,
Towers like Babylon,
Reach up and block out the sun,
This can't go on forever,
Soon it will all be gone,

I Know it's ahard for you
It's all you've ever known
So much that you've collected
The wealth that you protected

Every brick, every page, every bone, into dust
Every block, every cage, every grave, into dust
Every screen, every glass, every wheel, into dust

I know it's hard for you,
It's all you've every known,
So much that you've protected
The wealth that you wrecked

Every brick, every page, every bone, into dust
Every block, every cage, every grave, into dust
Every screen, every glass, every wheel, into dust
