

Frog Eyes

"The Oscillator's Hum"

Visit "The Oscillator's Hum" on MotoLyrics.com

It's important that you run and it's important that you
Rise
It's important that you set yourself upon a new Disguise
The snipers by the falls'll be delivering their calls:
Hey, George, look what they've found

I keep talking about what everybody's talking about
Where's my baby coming out, she's trapped in a hole,
She's calling out
The snipers by the falls'll be delivering their calls:
Hey, George, look what they've found

And the walker in the field and the building that we
Build
It's a pornographic guild, it's the business that we
Build
And the oscillator hums when the passive preacher
Strums
And I hear the wooden drums, sing his portion, sing his Sum

Oh, it's a pity your baby died
But I don't do drugs
The snipers by the falls'll be delivering their calls:
Hey, George, look what they've found

Well, I keep running out, the papacy is running out
The pharmacy is running out, the heretics are calling
Out
The snipers by the falls'll be delivering their calls:
Hey, George, look what they've found

I know when the bottom breaks from Autumn aches
Oh lord, I ate a billion cakes
Cold alarm, cold alarm
It's a pity your baby died

Visit Frog Eyes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
