Follower tell me what's your name
Tell me cause I can't remember
Don't say something
Someone has already said

Observant tell me what you see
Tell me cause I can't really tell
No one is listening
There is no one else around

Sometimes talk is not that cheap
You might feel a little lonely
Don't you?
Tell me the whole story
Everything about those empty eyes
I can't stand looking at these empty eyes

You don't say much
You don't say anything new
You're shivering
At the idea of being yourself
And I feel like we've never met

I will never meet you

It's time to face it
Please admit you're just
The echo of another voice
You're the liar's lie

And whenever I look at you
I feel one part remorse
I feel one part disgust
No revenge
