"When Love Turns To Hate"

To love is always a risk
You are changing the rules of the game
A game of society
The world is opening it's gates

The depth in you
Eternity
A secret place
Losing yourself

To love is always a risk
You are changing the rules of the game
A game of society

The world is opening it's gates
The rules of logic and destiny
No master and mistress
Miracles are possible
Fading away

The depth in you
Eternity
A secret place
Losing yourself

What we love will be changed
New hope is new life
We are changing ourselves
A new person is born
It is a part of our way
The world is a circle
Don't forget to hope

Love, love, love turns to hate
Love, love, love turns to hate

This fight in me will never stop
The evil thoughts are right on top
Grind them all and leave behind

Piles of bodies none will find

Prisoners of the human race
With their fate now face to face
In the night I'll come and sing
Songs of hatred from within

What we love will be changed
New hope is new life
We are changing ourselves
A new person is born
The depth in you
Eternity
A secret place
Losing yourself

To love is always a risk

Love, love, love turns to hate

This fight in me will never stop
