I laugh more than most people
Sleep better than half
Sometimes I feel a little insecure
But next thing I know it's forgotten
I don't always have good times
But it's never that bad
The rhythm of the earth
Makes my heart want to dance

Run till you run out of breath
But the clouds will follow you there
Sometimes colors of sunset peek through
And bring back memories of long ago

I try harder than most people
I hide my tears when I cry
When I think too much about things
Sometimes I just want to run away
In my heart are memories here and there
But I'm not melancholy
This Indian summer let's fall asleep
And forget about everything

Like a summer romance
The mirage will disappear
But because I'm young
I stubbornly hold on to the memories

(repeat)

La la la la la la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la la la la la
Sometimes colors of sunset peek through
And bring back memories of long ago
