So spring came and woke up and
Then it was summer and crying all over
And laughing again at dusk in the fall
Before we know it
Time goes by and then changes again
I touch the world, I disappear
A toast to me, because I am free, so long
Let's write it down
There's time to bring it out of zero
I'll dream of it
I'm confident
I can't wait any longer
So tired of waiting
Time for a new journey
So long, my friend
I really love you from the bottom of my heart
I can do anything if I want to
Like windsurfing
You can do it too
If you want to
Just stop searching for yourself
It's a waste of time
A toast to me, so long, I am free
