I know you've been waiting here for me
Patient and softly, waiting on my sheets
And everytime you breathe, I swear that
Maybe I'm the one, with the problem
And I know more than some
Reasons I need to be alone

Tonight, I swear it's for the best
Let's be alone, tonight
And now, I know that I'm afraid
That I may push this all away, tonight
And now I feel, my lovely bride
That I may push this to the side, tonight

I know that you're tired of these games
That I play out in your name with all
My broken promises, that never meant a thing
When I forgot to come around when I went
Out of town, and maybe when you're down
I'll call you, drunk again

In the middle of the night, we'll say
We shouldn't be alone again, tonight
And now, I know that I'm afraid
That I may push this all away, tonight
And now I feel, my lovely bride
That I may push this to the side, tonight

Once again, tonight
I swear we shouldn't be alone again, tonight
And now, I know that I'm afraid
That I may push this all away, tonight
And now I feel, my lovely bride
That I may push this to the side, tonight

And now, I know that I'm afraid
That I may push this all away, tonight
And now I feel, my lovely bride
That I may push this to the side, tonight
