I think I'm better off without this
I think I'm better off when I can't see your face
Who's taking my place?
It's been an hour since you left me
Just sixty minutes, and I am sure I'm fine
Just watchin' the timeÂ...

And I'm so wasted, I have pasted
My heart on my sleeve
And I'm so wasted, still I can taste this
More than you believe

I feel like shaking all the time now
I feel like I have missed, my time to shine
No, trust me, I'm fineÂ...
The distance in me makes this easy
But why do I feel like my life is passing me by
And I never tried?

And I'm so wasted, I have pasted
My heart on my sleeve
And I'm so wasted, still I can taste this
More than you believe

If you think you've got me figured
Well, then you think wrong
Cause later I will miss you on the telephone
This ink into my skin was not because of you
So go ahead and frame me, I've got nothing left to lose

If you're quiet, now, around me
You will hear a gentle scream from me
I think I'm diseased

And I'm so wasted, I have pasted
My heart on my sleeve
And I'm so wasted, still I can taste this
More than you believe
