It isn't easy avoiding you in a town such as this,
A town so small that everyone knows of our secret kiss.
I'm a def headphone who's been yelling into everybody's ears.
You're all that they can hear.

I didn't know how to handle this and everything it brought.
Was I everything you wished I'd be? was I everything you thought?
I didn't know why you said that lie, you said that lie, you said.
It's like a tape playing over in my head.

Don't say this, I mean it...

Hush your words, Keep them quiet now.
I won't give it up if it lets you down, It's not my obligation.
And these Tabloids spread through word of mouth;
According to you, I've been "In and out", you've been feeling my "sensations".

You had my hands tied.
Your words lie to destroy me more and more.
To make me your personal trophy boy, is what you said this for.
Did you really think that, after all that, I really would be yours?
This had a better chance before.

I'll keep it in secret.

Hush your words, Keep them quiet now.
I won't give it up if it lets you down, It's not my
obligation.
And these Tabloids spread through word of mouth;
According to you, I've been "In and out", you've been feeling my "sensations".
