We say we want the fighting to end, but look at our lives, how will it begin? Our reaction to violence is the same in return, only light dispels dark, when will we learn? It's in the way we see it, our view is skewed. It's not vs. them, or me vs. you. If we follow this path, then we're just sheep, 'cause the price of life is not cheap!

An EYE FOR AN EYE makes the world BLIND

Look around and open your eyes. It's our own two-edged sword that is ruling our lives. STAND STRAIGHT with our heads held high, cause to die in fear is no way to die. Turn your cheek, it stops right now, non-violence is the only way out! If we follow this path, then we're just sheep cause the price of life is not cheap!

An EYE FOR AN EYE makes the world BLIND

Here we are again, we've been here before. Spending all our time trying to even the score. One more time, we'll be on top. But one more time means the violence never stops! It's time we all realized, that peace begins in our own lives. 'Cause there are no sides, there are no teams, we are all just people trying to live out our dreams!
