I wanna show you all my love but only if you are bold enough to take the challenge and conquer my heart

no matter what you do and say be sure you do it the right way and whatever you may start , do it allways with your heart.

If you want my love , you better show me now cause I can't wait any longer

If you want my love , I can not tell you how how much I lie for your answer

If you want my love baby , I will tell you If you need my love I will what you have to do to be my lover be yourself and show me what you feel.

Why , tell me why are you to shy to look straight into my eyes and tell me what you really want now that I know you for so long

We have been friends all our life but now it's time to change our mind don't look back open your heart and I'll be your best part

How can you doubt what I feel for you is it there its so hard to explain that I don't fell the same anytime to open up my heart and my mind don't you know that love can make you color blind
