Why is he right,
When I said goodnight to you and you're never there

I'm awake, I'm awake, I'm awake now
Gotta get back to sleep now somehow
If I lay on my side with my pillow
Maybe you'll fly into my window

Why is he right when I said goodnight to you and you're never there
If you're not too busy tonight
Could you come visit me and my closed eyes
Please don't leave before we've once realized
This could be a big mistake
If I haven't already made it
Do you think he could take it

It's getting late, I hesitate to even try now
It's worth it even if I'm tired tomorrow
Before the sun, comes up today, I'm sure I'll be awake

Why is he right when I said goodnight to you and you're
never there
If you're not too busy tonight
Please don't leave before we've once realized
Or I smile and awake
Cause that would be a big mistake
If I haven't already made it
Do you think he could take it

Ohhhh ohh ohh

There's nothing between our eyes
This could be real
It's our surprise
If I wake up next up to you whoa to you (I'm good enough) (I'm good enough)
I hope you're there (I'm good enough)
