

Pure Prairie League "Early Morning Riser"

Visit "Early Morning Riser" on MotoLyrics.com

Early mornin' riser

I can still feel all your sunlight shine before the dawn
First light mornin' feelin's got me losin' so much sleep
I just can't say how much I miss you when you're gone

?Cause I get a feelin' somethin' like a summer wind
When you love me like a sister then you're gone again
But there's so much light shinin' in your eyes
That you just can't help but keep a love alive

Now, I hear some other Lovin' sunshine brother's left you cryin' and you're all alone
So cry your eyes and try to say your goodbye's
?Cause you're old enough to get back on feet all on your own

Don't you kind of get a feelin' like a summer wind
?Cause he loved you like a brother, now he's gone again
But there's still a lot of love light in your eyes
And you sure know how to keep a man alive

Well, you can stand right there and tell me somethin's wrong
It's so hard to know your problems when you're gone

So, early mornin' riser
There's not much more I can do to try and make things right
If you need another sunshine brother
I can be right there beside you by the early mornin' light

And I'll forget that feelin' like a summer wind
And I'll probably start to think about you now and then
But there's still a lot of light shinin' in your eyes
And you still know how to keep a love alive

Visit Pure Prairie League page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

