Look at yourself. Who do you think you are?

Innocent eyes taking you way too far

A fanatasy, subject to a life beyond

But you're already too far gone

Taken away

Dont want to know

You make feel sick to know

Bringing them down with a pitiful offer in hand

Pulling yourself but bury their hands in the sand

Ill never be going against whats right

Im watching as you descend

Look at yourself. Who do you think you are?

Into my eyes. See. Youre pushing me way too far.

Too confident against telling a soul

But youre already on your own

Watching

Through your pain

The choice is yours

which ones pain

The choice is yours
