Alone on a winter's night
Will you take me home?
Cause I'm done. Yeah, I'm out of here
I want to be alone

What I want to know is why
You would leave me here all night

So I took a break, and I stepped outside
Looking at the moon. But it's leaving me
With everything I know
I'll be in darkness soon
What I really need is a guiding light
To lead me through my days
But it isn't there, and I'm on my own
Stumbling through the haze

Open up your eyes
We're staring at the clock all day
Waiting for anything we can think of
To come and take us away

Now it's us on a summer's day
Nothing's changed at all
Looking through the smoke and the dusty road
Waiting for the fall
