Can anybody possibly,
Try to show me how we're connected,
The best of you's the worst of me,
Then you pull me down like a dead weight,
When every house on every street,
Seems to call my name as I walk on by,

It's a crazy world, I know,
When you're going down,
It's a crazy world, I know,
But I'm sticking round,

I try to find a decent place,
Where I can lay my head, but I can't stay,
There's nothing left for me to say,
But you turn me round, now I'm facing the wrong way,
And as for all your stupid lies,
It can put yourself with the muse and mice,

It's a crazy world, I know,
When you're going down,
It's a crazy world, I know,
But I'm sticking round,

All I should say,
All I should say,
All I should say,
We said yesterday,
We said yesterday,
We said yesterday,
And the sun's gonna say it all,

Roll on yesterday,
Because you're a lonely man,
Roll on yesterday,

When every house on every street,
Seems to call my name, walking by,
The best of you's the worst of me,
And you call my name and you're in my arms,
It's a crazy world, I know,
But I'm sticking round, round,

It's a crazy world, I know,
But I'm sticking round.
