

Puressence "Prodigal Song"

Visit "Prodigal Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Everyday I wake up I see footprints on the ceiling, didn't realise they came from me

All we ever wanted here was something to believe in Heaven's closed down, Mecca's obsolete
Well it's a hallelujah day and I'm a Walther P.P.K.

If I told you my story, man you wouldn't believe it
'cos the things I've seen and do are hard to percieve
And so I'll stop my talking now and draw back the curtain

Only thing you're finding out Nothing's for certain. Nothing's for certain
Watching my head go round
She's watching my head go round
She's watching my head
Watching my head go round

It can't be that easy sharing someone with a demon
Go and find yourself out on the street
No smoke without fire they say, now Adam's burning Eden
Nothing ever turns out like it seems
Well it's a Hallelujah day, and I'm a Walther P.P.K.

If I told you my story, man you wouldn't believe it
'cos the things I've seen and done are hard to percieve
And so I'll stop my talking now and draw back the
curtain

Only thing your finding out
Nothing's for certain
Nothing's for certain

Watching my head go round

Visit Puressence page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.