I'm sick of hating,
I'm so sick of hating here,
I'd give anything just to get away,

The cattle's straying,
Though I never joined your herd,
And I earned more than you do, in one day,

And I never changed mind,
So take me just as you'd find me,
Come and sit down by my side,
Or better still sit behind me,
Sit behind me,

I'm sick of sleeping,
I'm so sick of sleeping here,
Though I'm happy when I keep my eyes closed,

The cat is creeping,
Because he thrives on the absurd,
And his brains are lemon curd and champagne,

Of course I never change my mind,
You know just where you can find me,
Come and sit down by my side,
I think you've taken a shine to me,
Took a shine,

And I never changed mind,
You know just where you can find me,
Come and sit down by my side,
Or better still sit behind me,
Can I take you from all sides,
Because you've taken a shine to me,
Took a shine,

I'm sick of waiting,
I'm sick of waiting,
I'm sick of waiting,
I'm sick of waiting.
