Weakness overcame everything
I have fallen day by day
Waiting that something made sense in my life
So many years wondering in roads without ending
Trying to bring peace to myself
I look for answers for the reason why
I've become like this
I am my worst nightmare
And I found by myself
There is no place to hide
There's no time to question
No time to question
I have forgotten
Where I'm from
The place I truly call home
Always searching for a way out
Always searching for a way out
I am my worst nightmare
And I found by myself
There is no place to hide
There's no time to question
No time to question
I look for answers for the reason why
I've become like this
I have forgotten
Where I'm from
The place I truly call home
Always searching for a way out
Always searching for a way out
So many years wondering in roads without ending
This is what we stand for
Weakness overcame everything
I have fallen day by day
Waiting that something made sense in my life
In my life
