

For Ophelia's Death

"What A Nightmare"

Here I am
Looking straight into your eyes
Because the last time I did
You've turned me into stone
Making me believe I no longer belong to your future
Say "you're dead and gone"
"Dead and gone"
Forgive my weakness
But I'm a weak willed
Your heart stops every time you look at what I became Untruth is all you say
All you say
With those tears coming down your face
With those tears coming down your face
A nightmare is what I want to see in my mirror
Nightmare
What a nightmare
Filled again with the sickness of the stolen soul
I can't see the right from wrong
Filled again with the sickness of the stolen soul
I can't see the right from wrong
Can't forget the dead point that I've never saw
That I've never saw
I can't forget the dead point
I can't see the right from wrong
Chasing the day I won't forget
I don't believe everything I see
I don't believe everything I see
Say "you're dead and gone"
Say "you're scared and alone"
