Forbidden Friends - For You

I could love you from afar
I could love you anywhere you think you are
I could love existing on a tiny distant star
For you

How can I only hold you tight
How can I only hold you, only for one night
How fast can I cast all of the lovers aside for you

I can promise I'm not crazy but for you

I can admit when it's through
I can admit every stupid thing I do
I can confess every single secret message sent to you
Oh, for you
I can promise not to wreck
I can promise to protect
I can promise to love and respect
Or I can just lay back and let the bad chain from my neck

I could love you from a far
I could love you anywhere you think you are
I could love existing on a tiny distant star
For you, oh, for you, for you, oh, for you
