There are times when I envision I could almost be like you
And I love your disposition everyday there's something new
And I always find you playing where I never venture to

All these things drive me crazy
And I love you when you're mad
Now it seems you've gone away now
Are you lost or coming back

Baby come back
know that it's wrong
Baby come back
Shouldn't be alone
Baby come back
Baby come back

There are times no words are spoken still I know just what you meant
Cause my heart is always open to your every sentiment
And the urgency to see you has my mind a little bent verse 2

chorus

See how she runs
Life can be rough when you need a little love Ain't it good to have a place called home
If there's not what you need but you need some room to breathe
Now you shouldn't go so far
'Cause there's room here in my heart

verse 2

Assorted lyrics:

{My baby's a cat baby's a cat
Listen to me I miss you so Run run it's everybody's fun

Run run run she runs away
Baby come back}
