Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.

A boy, a girl loved each other. I loved so true.
She thought she'd love him forever. He talks so smooth.
She heard him say: "Love you always. Forever stay."
Now she wakes up, tired. It's a sound of a baby.

She's all alone and he is gone.

Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.
Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.

Now fear is strong and controls her. What will she do?
She is afraid, so afraid for the future.

She tries to hide her tears inside.

Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.
Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.

One life, it's yours. Don't fake it.
Nightmares don't last, just take it.
We are so young. I know you.
One lie is strong. Stay true, too.

Wake me up.
Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.
Wake me up. This pain is just too real.
The fear is destroying me.
Wake me up.
