As much as she'd like to believe
She's leading a brand new wave
That uniform that she wears
I see it on the street every day

She looks heavenward
And struggles to find the right cliché
You've got to find your own space
Have a nice day

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question the herself
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question the world
Like I do, like I do

Like the wisdom of ages
Will flow from her tongue
This is the delusion of the young

She says she'll lead with her heart
But her heart really doesn't know at all
I'll get no satisfaction out of seein' her fall

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question herself
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question her life
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question herself
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question the world
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question herself
Like I do, like I do

She's so young
She's got the answers
She doesn't need to question the world
Like I do, like I do
