"Break Me Slowly"

I felt something move in me tonight
I dont know what it was, but it sure felt right
God knows my heart has been a mess
I throw up my hands in the midst of this

I could feel you like you were breathing
I could hear you like you were singing
Break me slowly, touch me, hold me tonight

Ive tried so hard to let this go
But its hard to sing when youve got no soul
All I controlled is wearing thin
And it hurts my head making sense of it

I could feel you like you were breathing
I could hear you like you were singing
Break me slowly, touch me, hold me

I could feel the tears Ive been trying
To cry, theyre no longer in hiding
Break me slowly, touch me

I swear I feel you here tonight
Theres a beat in my chest I somehow recognize
The dissonance starts to break
The chord is struck, the band it plays
And I refuse to let you get away

Break me slowly
Can you touch me? I need you to touch me tonight

I could feel you like you were breathing
I could hear you like you were singing
Break me slowly, touch me, hold me
Break me
