Im so secure
So insecure
This whole allure could burn in flames

Hes so for sure
Shes so for sure
Both insecure
And were all the same
We dont know if theres a way

I believe you, I believe

So come on, I got my guard down
And I dont know if I can take it now

I want it, so I bought it, but I just dont know
All the colors blurred together, blue and indigo
Theres a fire in my bones burning out of control
So come on

Did you mean it when you said what you said to me?
Every syllable I heard was it flattery?
I hear were sharks in the West
Were all liars at best
Buried deep in a mess
In a race for success, a war
I say no more

I want it, so I bought it, but I just dont know
All the colors blurred together, blue and indigo
Theres a fire in my bones burning out of control
So come on

I want it, so I bought it, but I just dont know
All the colors blurred together, blue and indigo
Theres a fire in my bones burning out of control
So come on
I cant do this on my own

I want it, and I bought it, but I just dont know
If I could leave it then believe it I would let this go

Theres a fire in my bones burning out of control
So come on
