I am naked, you are sacred safe uncovered, subtle rupture rush for comfort, such desire shared forever, your touch soothes me to my

Core, when you speak my name I crash, when you go insane I crumble like a broken ring
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own eyes grow heavy, aches surrender we sleep soundly in your moisture

Core when you say my name I crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own

I am wretched, you are sacred just let nature be your texture rusty teardrops, stretch like rubber be my family, I can't live a life of my own supplemental, your touch soothes me to my

Core when you say my name I
crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own

Core when you scream my name I crash and you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own

Soothes me to my core Core when you speak my name I
crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own
I can't live a life of my own
Your touch soothes me to my core
