"Little Faith"

Thinking of the times when I was an idiot
Thinking it so I can start over again
Thinking back
Oh it's a world of shattered faith
Thinking that my mind will explode either way
I'll always be the one to go
I'll never stay too long and ruin my welcome
But if you want me too, I'll stay
I'll never be the one to let go of you
And after all this time I dream
I'll never be the same way after you have rendered me
I'll never be the same way after you've accepted me
