Clone this stance
And show who's joyless leader
I hate the way you look in my eyes
Crisis falls before you go
Your small boy never gives a chance to speak
You never set this plan, you never set this plan and you
Sometimes I feel damned for being your only child
And I hate when you say that
You want me crawling in
Just say that
How you hide your sleepy face
How you hide your emptiness
Why so bringing hate with this
I brought you the boom
I brought you the flawless nightmare
How come you just say
When its crawling on your sides
How you came in
You locked yourself up
How you came in, it doesn't feel like you anymore
Don't hide your emptiness
Never hide your sleepy face
You run, you run
When I give you the boom
You brought me the first letter
You tell me I worth it
Tell me I worth it
