You've got to fight for it
After all it's yours
Don't let the world
Push you down
Into its' core
Please don't cry
What's done is done
You can only fix yourself
You can never change
The other ones

Shine this light down on me forever
My open eyes are so alive
Break through these walls that leave me useless
All of my fears have gone away

The pain is over now
And the wounds are healed
They clipped your wings
But now you see
What's been revealed
Look to the sky
Draw down the moon
Fill your life with silver dreams
Spin a secret spell
You'll find it soon
